THE BACKGROUND

“Deep Listening: The Story of Pauline Oliveros” has become a crucial conduit for passing along wisdom as it tells the story of Pauline's life as an iconic composer, performer, teacher, philosopher, technological innovator and humanitarian.

The making of the film was cut short by the sudden passing of Pauline in November 2016, followed by the many challenges of the pandemic year. Supporters of the film now hope to reach a goal of $50,000 to complete the film in time to celebrate what would have been Pauline's 90th birthday on May 30, 2022.
